DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

The drawings were received on 4-17-2006. These drawings are acceptable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Minta et al (6,539,747).

Minta et al disclose a method for treating natural gas which removes water in a first vessel 11 and removes solidified sour species from a second vessel through line 22b.

Claims 25-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jackson et al (3,312,073).

Jackson et al show a system for treating natural gas which removes water in vessel 3 and cools the remaining gas to form a slurry of natural gas and solidified carbon dioxide

(in tank 30, with the sweetened gas being removed in separator 32). The stream entering each vessel is cooled prior to entering the vessel. In regard to claims 26 and 27, it is noted that applicant has not claimed that hydrates are formed. Applicant has merely claimed that the temperature in the first vessel is at a temperature at which hydrates are formed. Hydrates can be formed at different pressures and using different gases which are entrained in the crystals. The temperature in the first vessel of Jackson et al is a temperature at which a hydrate can be formed. Hydrates are not taught to be formed in the vessel, but the temperature is such that using a different chemical and increasing the pressure, hydrates could form. Claims 26 and 27 would be allowable if the formation of hydrates in the vessel is clearly claimed. Likewise the 38 has been objected to below, but "the hydrates" lacks clear antecedent basis as the hydrates are not clearly claimed in claim 26.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 30-48 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
